ALDO LEOPOLD AND A
LAND ETHIC FOR OUR TIME

"We abuse land because we regard it as a commodity belonging to us. When we see land as a community to which we belong, we may begin to use it with love and respect."

ALDO LEOPOLD
Foreword to A Sand County Almanac

SIX RIVERS REGIONAL LAND CONSERVANCY AND THE US GREEN BUILDING COUNCIL DETROIT REGIONAL CHAPTER have joined forces to raise awareness and participation in preserving the natural resources of the region. On the evening of Jan 30, 2013 at Emagine Theater in Royal Oak they will screen Green Fire, an Emmy winning documentary highlighting the life of Aldo Leopold, one of America's greatest conservationists.

Aldo Leopold, circa 1940

ALDO LEOPOLD is one of the most influential conservation thinkers of the twentieth century. His writings have become a catalyst for our evolving ecological awareness and a classic in American literature. Green Fire is the first full-length documentary film ever made about the legendary environmentalist. Green Fire provocatively examines Leopold's thinking, tracing how he shaped and influenced the modern environmental movement. Leopold remains relevant today, inspiring projects all over the country that connect people and land.

ORGANIZATIONAL DETAILS

Six Rivers Regional Land Conservancy is a private 501(c)(3) non-profit conservation organization whose members and supporters share a commitment to preserving important natural and agricultural lands in the watersheds of the six major rivers of the region—the Belle, Clinton, Flint, Huron, Rouge and Shiawassee in Oakland, Macomb, Lapeer, Genesee and St. Clair counties. Six Rivers works with private landowners using legal instruments like conservation easements to permanently protect natural or agricultural features of their land from conversion and degradation. It also works with public agencies to help them acquire land for parks or other public conservation purposes.

US Green Building Council-Detroit Regional Chapter is a non-profit organization committed to a prosperous and sustainable future for the Detroit region through cost-efficient and energy-saving green buildings. Our mission is to transform the way buildings and communities are designed, built, and operated in the greater Detroit region.
